BLANK

WRITTEN & PERFORMED BY BRIAN STANTON

Sunday, February 16th at 7:00p

Award-winning, nationally acclaimed solo show explores adoption and identity. Playing 12 characters, Brian embarks on a mythical quest ultimately discovering the horrific truth of his birth, an instinctive love for his birth mother and a grateful dedication to his adoptive family.

Performance followed by a Q&A discussion with audience

"Stanton's skill in balancing a profoundly personal tale with classic underpinnings ultimately hints at the evocative idea that all our lives are full of events and incidents that touch on the mythic and the timeless."
–LA WEEKLY "GO"

"No doubt about it, this guy is an artist."
–Curtain Up (NY)

"...compelling...a moving exploration of identity."
–Backstage

"Packed to the brim with material, BLANK is a powerful piece."
–Show Business Weekly (NY)

"...a profound piece of drama..."
–LA Splash Magazine Worldwide

"What (Stanton) does is give us a glimpse of the unique journey the adopted person takes to understand and appreciate their personal history. A play that betters our understanding of that journey is an important one. For fifteen years I have lived and loved someone who was adopted. And I'm grateful to Mr. Stanton for helping me appreciate my partner's journey even more." –NYTheatre.com
